

Hosted by the Fairview Park Preservation Alliance, this free public event is a celebration of voter approval of Measure AA and the 7 out of 10 citizens who voted to preserve Fairview Park as a nature park.

Fairview Park is in full bloom, and we want to celebrate this very important victory for Costa Mesa.

At 9 a.m. professional biologist Robb Hamilton will lead a tour of Fairview Park. Those interested in the tour should meet on the east side of Placentia Avenue next to the railroad.

Free train rides will be offered by the Orange County Model Engineers from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

There will be hands-on instructional demonstration given by UCI Professor Devon Bradley, Ph. D. of Irvine Valley College on how to use the "iNaturalist" app, a citizen science database that allows you to upload and record plants and wildlife in Fairview Park and beyond using just your cell phone.
